Delight

Fio, Garden of Five Senses, New Delhi

Fio originates from the Italian word - Fiorelle meaning beautiful little flower and the restaurant stands true to the meaning of its name. The offbeat eatery is tucked away amid a splendid natural beauty, Garden of Five Senses at Said-ul-Ajaib opposite Saket. Rekindling the magic of five senses at Fio are the soothing natural surroundings, thoughtfully-done contemporary interiors, replete with chandeliers, mirror-work and plush upholstery, creating a perfect ambience for a formal tete-a-tete or a romantic soiree. They can accommodate 250 guests in the outdoor and indoor capacities. The restaurant prepares both Italian and Indian cuisines with many of the herbs and spices grown in-house along with the special use of Mango wood to fire the oven. The best bites are many, some of which are grilled New Zealand lamb chops and grilled lobsters, smoky fresh wood-fired pizzas and some rare Indian classics such as Fish Polichattu and Champein Aur Nalli Wala Gosht. They stock wines from ten countries across the world, while the best cocktails are Fio Caipiroska with Basil and Cranberry, and Fio Mojito with Basil and Apple. In desserts, they finely prepare Blueberry Cheese Cake, Tiramisu and more. To add to the fun, one can even find Hookahs/ Sheeshas, served in unique flavours.

Experience

The Wine Trail

Naka Wines brings to the Indian Market a range of the finest wines from high quality French grapes grown in Bijapur, Karnataka. The wines are exquisitely crafted with French expertise from the finest grapes grown in the state. The Krishna valley has long sunny days and cool nights that are ideally suited for growing high quality grapes. The day and night temperature variation in summer as well as the full exposure to sunlight during the ripening period allow for superb tannin development and give a strong aroma and colour to the wines. Cultivation through viticulture advancement, the company is focused on ensuring that the vintage gets better year after year. For the wine connoisseurs two grades of wine produced here are 'Naka Sauvignon Chenin Blanc' and 'Naka Carbernet Shiraz'.

As an exclusive with Kuoni, clients are taken on a tour on the vineyards followed by wine tasting and light snacks. For a large group, dinner at a bungalow can also be arranged.

Evening is the best time to visit and the entire experience including the drive from Bengaluru would take about six hours.
