

FORESTS, TIGERS, TRIBES AND ANCIENT LANDSCAPES

Escorted by a naturalist, this earthy itinerary is for nature lovers with eclectic interests in indigenous art, yoga, culture and anthropology; not limiting to wildlife and nature alone. Start from the cosmopolitan hub of Mumbai learning how to draw a tribal art that goes back to 3000 BC and end the tour in the pre-historic rock shelters of Bhimbetka in Central India where this particular art form originated. In between, meet one of the oldest aboriginal communities of India whose ancestors once walked with the Tigers, go on Jeep Safaris to spot this gorgeous big cat, get introduced to Yoga, visit ancient landscapes strewn with remains of pre-historic human occupation and spend time in a National Park where sloth bear sightings are special. This is a very unpretentious itinerary, carefully crafted to showcase an India that curious nature lovers and anthropologists would appreciate.

Madai

There is something mysterious and fascinating about the deep dark forests of Central India, its indigenous communities and their rituals. Once they have harvested their crop, every village holds an annual event called Madai to purify the soil and seek forgiveness from Mother Earth for causing her “injury” while they ploughed on the land.

Arrive Mumbai. Warm welcome at the airport by our representative and transfer to the hotel.

DAY 02 MUMBAI

Spend the morning exploring the main sights of Mumbai such as the Gateway of India, Prince of Wales Museum, the Dhobi Ghat and Mani Bhawan. In the afternoon, learn a tribal art form of India which goes back to 3000 BC. These tribes were once forest-dwellers but have made a gradual transition towards being a pastoral community. The simple style of painting which stems from their animistic belief has a very basic vocabulary – a circle, a triangle and a square – which they use to depict their daily life, customs and traditions. Create a piece of art to carry back as a souvenir.

DAY 03 MUMBAI- RAIPUR

RAIPUR- BHORAMDEO

Fly to Raipur in the morning. Continue by surface to Borhamdeo. Stay in a simple farm-house style lodge located close to a medieval temple. Spend the afternoon visiting the friendly indigenous communities of the area in their villages.

DAY 04 IN BHORAMDEO

Visit a weekly tribal haat (market) in and around Borhamdeo which is incredibly interesting as you get to see villagers come from far to sell their produce. Drive to pre-historic Rock Shelters of Bhimbetka, a UNESCO World Heritage with its extraordinary cave paintings and where the earliest traces of human life on the Indian subcontinent can be found. This is where the tribal art you painted in Mumbai originated. What is really unique here in Bhimbetka is that the paintings are not from one period in history but were done over a period of thousands of years. The oldest painting here dates back to the Lower Paleolithic age and the newest to the Mesolithic. As Man transformed over time from a hunter-gatherer to an agriculturist to living as part of an administered state, so did the paintings he made here. Continue to the Bhopal airport for the afternoon flight to Mumbai. Connect to the international airport for the flight back home. Day Use rooms can be provided depending upon the flight timings.
